

Welcome,

I would like to begin by acknowledging the land we are on lutruwita, with genuine respect for the traditional owners of this land, the palawa people. The palawa people, for many years, referred to this land as palanwina lurini kanamaluka meaning 'the town near river Tamar'. I pay my respects to elders past, present and emerging and stand for a future that profoundly respects and acknowledges Aboriginal perspectives, culture, language and history.

Tasmania has truly cool climate, the purest air and water in the world that grows not only wine grapes but also barley, hops, and its distinct native botanicals. It is no wonder Tasmania has internationally recognised beer, gin and whisky. This beverage list is carefully curated to showcase exceptional beverages around the island while you can enjoy genuinely delicious dinner curated by chef Nabin.

You may see Tasmania as a tiny wine region – Tasmania accounts for 0.9 per cent of the national crush by volume, 4 per cent by value in 2023 – also controversially it is under a single GI. However, Tasmania's seven unofficial sub-regions shows distinctive structure and characteristics in their wines. Moreover, Tasmania has a bunch of passionate grape growers and wine makers who believe in this island, even though the marginal climate keeps them on their toes. I have tried to capture the essence of it, although there is a lot to discover! We highly recommend you take time to visit vineyards and wineries while you are here to meet amazing people and taste more wines.

Tassie got me into wine. I still remember the first glass of Tasmanian Pinot Noir handed to me by the previous owner/sommelier Jimmy Welsh. It was pretty and fresh, showing layers and layers of flavours. All my taste buds were exploding – it was an eye-opening moment. Since then, I have become a wine student and a curious drinker. Hence you may find some funky and quirky stuff on the wine list as well (even though I don't forget the classics and old favourites). Please do not hesitate to ask our knowledgeable staff if you feel adventurous and want to push your palette today. You may just discover something you will love!

Cheers,
Sommelier/Co-owner
Ethan Han
