

Welcome,

I would like to begin by acknowledging lutruwita, the land on which we gather today, and pay my deepest respects to the traditional custodians of this land, the palawa people. For thousands of years, they have cared for this country, known as palanwina lurini kanamaluka—‘the town near the Tamar River’. I honour Elders past, present and emerging, and stand for a future that respectfully embraces Aboriginal culture, knowledge and history.

We are privileged to call Tasmania home. Ours is a true cool-climate environment, with some of the purest air and water in the world—conditions that nurture not only exceptional wine grapes, but also barley, hops and unique native botanicals. It is no coincidence that Tasmania is internationally recognised for its beer, gin and whisky. Launceston itself is proudly a UNESCO City of Gastronomy, and our vibrant food culture is something we celebrate daily. Our Executive Chef, Nabin, is dedicated to showcasing carefully sourced Tasmanian produce through genuinely delicious cuisine. This wine list of over 220 selections has been curated to reflect our island and elevate your dining experience.

Tasmania may be small in scale, but it consistently punches above its weight. In 2025, it accounted for just 1.2% of Australia’s total wine production by volume, yet 6.5% by value—a testament to its quality. While Tasmania is officially a single GI, its seven sub-regions offer distinctive expressions of site and climate. Behind these wines are passionate growers and makers who embrace the challenges of a marginal climate in pursuit of excellence. This list is a glimpse into that story—though there is always more to discover. If you have time, we highly recommend visiting local vineyards to experience it firsthand.

Tasmania is what first drew me into wine. I still remember the first glass of Tasmanian Pinot Noir poured for me by the previous owner and sommelier, Jimmy Welsh. It was delicate yet layered, vibrant and expressive—an unforgettable moment that sparked my curiosity. Since then, I have become both a student of wine and a lifelong learner. While I remain deeply in love with this island and its exquisite wines, I am always seeking something different, travelling the world through the wine glass. Among these pages, you will find a few icons and some obscure wines—bottles you may never have heard of, and hopefully some that will spark your excitement. Have a chat with our lovely staff, and let us help you discover a new favourite.

Cheers,

Ethan Han DipWSET

Sommelier / Co-owner
